"That the playing on Harbor is uniformly outstanding is a given. What makes it an early contender for one of 2007's best is Harrison's emergence as a writer who entirely dispenses with boundaries and, instead, creates his own pan-cultural and multi-stylistic mélange that's as timeless as it is thoroughly modern."

— All About Jazz

"Mr. Harrison is a jazz-trained guitarist and composer, but on his new album, Passing Train, he steps into the position of a roots-haunted singer-songwriter with a knowing, yearning tone."

— Nate Chinen, New York Times
